Educational Placement Decisions:
What is the best environment for my child to learn?

We hope that you will join us!

Special education is a service – not a placement. IDEA definition, and subsequent case laws and studies, time and time again reinforce that a student should be placed in their Least Restrictive Environment? But what does that mean? How can a parent ensure their child is in the placement that will allow for their success? How do can you be assured that your child is receiving the right supports so that they can have active and meaningful participation in the classroom activities and curriculum while still developing their own individual academic skills?

This workshop will explore these issues and more. Throughout this workshop parents will be provided with the pros and cons of all settings and tips on how to navigate through this difficult educational decision successfully.

Sandi Ames has been advocating for and working with individuals with disabilities of all ages for over 30 years. As a parent of an adult child with Down syndrome, Sandi Ames has a unique insight and tips for success to share!

NOTE: Spanish interpretation will be available for participants when RSVP is made indicating need no later than three days prior to event. This workshop is sponsored by CAN (Collaborate/Advocate/Navigate) in collaboration with Integrated Resources Institute through a grant from the State Council on Developmental Disabilities.
